As a new grandfather, I believe that local government decision-making should always ask the question “what is in the best interests of our grandchildren & their grandchildren?”

With good planning & strong leadership we can make immediate improvements to our community, but charting a long-term vision for Kehewin is the only way to ensure our sustainability and prosperity for years to come.

ECONOMICALLY ...

- Create long-term employment opportunities by developing & fostering partnerships with existing businesses & regional companies.
- Establish supports for current Kehewin-based companies to promote growth & expansion.

SOCIALLY ...

- Identify the key negative issues facing our community
- Establish realistic & implementable action plans to curb negative behaviours
- Invest in sports & cultural activities & improve their accessibility for all people

POLITICALLY ...

- Work collectively with other elected officials to leave our community in a better place than we found it.
- With a focus on Treaty issues, advocate for Kehewin locally, provincially, federally & globally.

Thank you to all past Chiefs & Councillors for your time, effort & sacrifice. At this point in First Nations history, leadership is a difficult task with ever-changing demands. I am humbly asking you, the people of Kehewin, to allow me the chance to work for you. You have my word that I will be your voice and give my very best to the job every day. Wishing you good health, long life, prosperity & good luck.

Respectfully, Jason John & Family
